

SPELTHORNE VOLUNTEER DRIVERS

The law with regard to holding a person's personal data has changed and new rules called the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) came into effect on 25th May, 2018.

Spelthorne Volunteer Drivers (SVD) hold client's personal information, eg, name, address, telephone no, in order to administer requests for transport to medical related appointments.

To comply with GDPR, these details will not be disclosed to any third party outside SVD, except in exceptional emergency circumstances to pass on to medical personnel or to next of kin.

SVD is committed to ensuring that client's privacy and personal information is protected. We undertake to keep data in a locked container or password protected computer.

By using their services, you agree that SVD may contact you using your personal details. If you no longer wish to use the service, you should inform SVD, who will then remove your details from their records.

SPELTHORNE VOLUNTEER DRIVERS

The law with regard to holding a person's personal data has changed and new rules called the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) came into effect on 25th May, 2018.

Spelthorne Volunteer Drivers (SVD) hold client's personal information, eg, name, address, telephone no, in order to administer requests for transport to medical related appointments.

To comply with GDPR, these details will not be disclosed to any third party outside SVD, except in exceptional emergency circumstances to pass on to medical personnel or to next of kin.

SVD is committed to ensuring that client's privacy and personal information is protected. We undertake to keep data in a locked container or password protected computer.

By using their services, you agree that SVD may contact you using your personal details. If you no longer wish to use the service, you should inform SVD, who will then remove your details from their records.